Leaving Certificate Examination 2009

Candidate Information Booklet

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this booklet is to give you an outline of the running of the Leaving Certificate examination. It answers questions most frequently asked by candidates and their parents. We hope that you find the booklet informative and of value to you in the lead up to the examination. Further detailed information on all aspects of the examination can be found on our website www.examinations.ie. If you have any more questions about the Leaving Certificate please contact:

The State Examinations Commission

Tel: 090-6442700

In the interests of fairness to all candidates the examinations must be conducted in a wellregulated manner. Notices are displayed in examination centres to remind candidates of the most important rules that must be observed during the examinations. At the end of this booklet you will find the rules relating to the conduct of candidates at the actual examinations. You should familiarise yourself fully with the rules. If you are in doubt about any matter you should check first with the school authority/examination Superintendent.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE EXAMINATIONS

Over 58,000 candidates will sit the Leaving Certificate in 2009. A total of over 950,000 components (written papers, oral, aural and practical work) will be examined leading to the award of some 350,000 grades in 50 different subjects.

The Leaving Certificate examination is overseen and administered by the Commission with the co-operation of school authorities.

Over 2000 superintendents are involved in supervising the Leaving Certificate written examinations in June. The work of candidates is examined by a total of 2800 examiners.

THE EXAMINATION PAPER

How are examination papers prepared?

Examination and Assessment Managers in the Commission prepare the examination papers with assistance from specialists (mainly teachers) in each subject.

What will candidates know about the format/layout of the paper?

While the questions on examination papers change from year to year, the papers generally follow a particular format and layout. Whenever a significant change in layout is planned, or a new syllabus is introduced, the Commission provides samples of the changed format to schools well in advance of the examinations.

ENTERING FOR THE EXAMINATIONS

How does the Commission obtain details of candidates and their chosen subjects?

In the case of candidates attending post-primary schools the necessary details are provided to the Commission by candidates themselves through the schools.

The Commission verifies this information with the school and the candidates prior to the examinations. A copy of the entry details is provided to the Central Applications Office (CAO) to assist it in processing applications by candidates for college places.

THE EXAMINATION

How are the examinations supervised?

A Superintendent supervises each examination centre. The Superintendent oversees the running of the examinations. This includes distributing examination papers and answer books, ensuring that the examinations start and finish at the correct times and that candidates have a suitable environment in which to sit their examinations.

Are there detailed rules regarding the conduct of candidates?

Yes. These deal with matters such as the times of attendance, leaving the centre before the end of the examination, copying, etc. The rules are set out at the end of this booklet. Candidates should ensure that they are fully familiar with these rules before the examinations begin.

Are there rules governing completion of practical coursework?

All practical coursework must be the candidate's own individual work. Candidates must complete practical coursework under the supervision of the class teacher so that the teacher can monitor progress on a regular basis and be in a position at the practical coursework completion date to verify that the work is the candidate's own individual work.

Any incidence of suspected copying, improper assistance from another party, plagiarism or procurement of pieces prepared by another party will be thoroughly investigated and the candidate is liable to have penalties imposed as provided for in the Rules and Programme for Secondary Schools. The penalties include loss of subject, loss of the entire examination in all subjects, and being debarred from the Certificate Examinations in subsequent years.

There may be serious consequences for any other party involved in improperly assisting a candidate as the Education Act 1998 provides for certain offences in relation to the conduct of the examinations.

How are candidates with physical and learning difficulties accommodated?

Candidates with permanent or long-term conditions, including visual and hearing difficulties, or specific learning difficulties, which they believe will significantly impair their performance in the examinations may apply to the State Examinations Commission for a reasonable accommodation(s) to be made to facilitate them demonstrate their level of attainment. Application for such accommodation is made through the School Authority.

The reasonable accommodations are intended to:

- a. remove, as far as possible, the impact of the disability on the candidate's performance and thus enable the candidate to demonstrate his or her level of attainment, and,
- b. ensure that, whilst giving candidates every opportunity to demonstrate their level of attainment, the special arrangements will not give the candidate an unfair advantage over other candidates in the same examination

Generally the means by which a candidate normally studies or communicates will largely determine the reasonable accommodation(s) which will be required.

The range of reasonable accommodations includes (a) arrangements to have examination papers read to the candidate (b) modified examination papers may be supplied substituting alternative questions for those which refer to visual material such as diagrams, photographs and maps (c) Braille translations of examination papers may be provided (d) examination papers may be provided in enlarged print. (e) candidates may be permitted to record their answers on tape recorder, typewriter or word-processor (f) answers may be dictated to a person acting as a scribe rather than to a tape recorder.

A candidate's special need may be such that it is not possible for him or her to participate in a particular mode of assessment. For example, the aural element of certain examinations may not be appropriate for a candidate with severe hearing impairment. A candidate can apply for exemption from an element(s) of an examination and have his/her grade determined on the balance of the work in the subject. In approving an exemption the Commission will inform the candidate of the content of any explanatory note in relation to the subject concerned that may appear on the certificate. Any explanatory note will provide detail only on how the assessment procedure was altered. It will not record the nature of the candidate's disability. Similarly an explanatory note will be included on the certificate in any subject where the nature of the arrangement precludes the testing of a particular competency for which marks are allocated.

Where possible, reasonable accommodation(s) is/are also made for a candidate who has an accident immediately prior to or during the examinations. If this happens the school should be contacted immediately. An example of this type of accommodation is making provision for a candidate to sit examinations in hospital.

A candidate who is dissatisfied with the accommodation(s) proposed by the Commission may appeal to an independent appeals committee.

THE MARKING PROCESS

Who marks the candidate's work?

Assistant examiners in the particular subject are appointed by the Commission to carry out the marking. The assistant examiners are supervised by advising examiners and the work is overseen by a Chief Examiner who is usually an Examination and Assessment Manager in the Commission.

How is a candidate's work marked?

In order to ensure that the work of each candidate is marked in the same manner, a marking scheme is prepared for each examination. This marking scheme is much more detailed than the allocation of marks shown on the examination paper and deals with the allowable ways of answering each question.

The marking scheme is finalised by experienced examiners at conferences held shortly after the examinations. This allows account to be taken of observations on the examination paper by the teacher association for the subject and other interested parties. The Commission subsequently publishes marking schemes for each subject.

How is the marking process monitored?

The marking of examination work is supervised by the Chief Examiner and advising examiners who require all examiners to mark in accordance with the marking scheme. At various stages during the marking process examiners submit samples of candidates' work that they have marked. They also supply statistics on the marks being awarded to enable ongoing monitoring of the marking process to take place.

RESULTS PREPARATION AND ISSUE

How are the results processed and checked in the State Examinations Commission?

When an examiner has completed the marking of scripts and performed the necessary arithmetical checks he/she records the marks on marking sheets that are separate from the individual scripts. These marking sheets are returned to the Commission where they are checked and any issue raised by the examiner is resolved. The candidate's total mark for each component of a subject (oral, aural, practical, paper 1, paper 2 etc) is keyed into the computer system and then keyed a second time, by a different operator, to ensure accuracy.

Can mistakes happen?

Considering the enormous volumes of examination scripts and associated examination material, and the large number of people involved in marking and processing the results, the error level is in fact very low. The Commission's system of checks and double checks is geared to detect and correct errors before the results issue. These systems are constantly reviewed and where necessary strengthened. They include the issue of a supplementary report with the results (see the section which follows on the format of results) and the use of bar coding to track the movement of candidates' work between schools, the Commission and examiners.

What is the format of the results?

Initially candidates are supplied with a statement of provisional results. A supplementary or extra report is also provided in any case where a candidate's result in a multicomponent subject does not contain credit for an essential component. For example, if a candidate does not sit Paper 1 in Irish he/she will get no credit for that paper in the overall grade. A supplementary report will issue with that candidate's result confirming that no credit was given for Paper 1. This allows the candidate to satisfy himself/herself that all components taken by him/her have been taken into account in determining his/her final grade. Schools are also provided with a copy of the provisional results.

Candidates should note that it is an offence, under the terms of the Education Act 1998, to alter any record containing the results of an examination or make use of any such record knowing that the results are false.

What are the arrangements for issuing the results in 2009?

The results will be delivered to schools on Wednesday, 12th August, 2009. The Commission will also transmit the results of all candidates electronically to the Central Applications Office (CAO). This means that while the statements of provisional results are in the course of issue to schools the CAO is able to process applications for entry to higher education without delay. This brings about the earliest possible issue of higher education offers to candidates.

DIAL-UP RESULT SERVICE AND INTERNET SERVICE.

In recent years candidates have been allowed to obtain their results over the telephone and Internet, by using a Personal Identification Number (PIN) and their examination number. This year both services (telephone and Internet) will operate from 12 noon on the day the results are issued, Wednesday 12th August. The telephone and Internet services are intended as an alternative service, if for some reason, candidates are unable to avail of the result service offered by their schools. These services are not intended to replace the valuable service and advice provided to candidates by schools at result time each year. In addition, candidates have access to all of the supporting documentation necessary to avail of the viewing and appeal processes at their schools.

Details of the telephone numbers for the telephone service are:

Number to call within the Republic of Ireland: 1530 719 290.

Calls cost 33c per minute (incl. VAT) Calls from payphones and mobiles may cost more

Number to call from outside the Republic of Ireland: 00 353 1 6885312

(International call rates apply) This service is only accessible by use of a tone telephone.

Technical Support: If you are experiencing technical difficulties using this service you can call Technical Support on 0818 217 100.

The address for access to results via the Internet is www.examinations.ie. Your PIN will be made available through your school or direct to you if you entered as an external candidate.

HELPLINES

For the first week following the issue of results the Commission operates a helpline for schools. The purpose of this is to allow schools to rapidly resolve any problem with the provisional results of individual candidates.

Each year the National Parent's Council (Post-Primary) organises a very valuable helpline, providing advice and guidance for candidates and parents, staffed by professional guidance counsellors, for one week following the issue of the results. (The Council also provides a helpline for one week following the issue of the CAO offers). The Freephone No. for both helplines is 1800 265 165. For general enquiries the National Parent's Council (Post-Primary) telephone number is (01)8302740.

THE OPTION TO VIEW MARKED EXAMINATION SCRIPTS

Will I be able to view my scripts this year?

Yes. The intention is to provide a candidate with an opportunity to see how the script in question was marked. As the candidate concerned you must first decide whether or not you wish to view a script and then you must be present in person at the viewing centre in order to do so. Your scripts will not be released to any other person even with your permission. You may wish to take particular note of this requirement when making holiday arrangements. Each candidate may be accompanied by one other person when viewing a script. However, candidates and those accompanying them are strictly forbidden from bringing pens, pencils, etc., or any writing material with them into the viewing centre. This rule is necessary in order to protect the integrity of the examinations.

Will I have access to my oral and practical marks?

Only the scripts from the written examinations are returned for viewing by candidates. Oral tests are recorded so that all components of the subject are reviewed where appeals are sought.

Is it essential that I view my scripts if I wish to appeal?

No. An appeal application may be made without having viewed the script. However, the viewing facility provides a candidate, who may feel that his/her grade does not fully reflect his/her performance on the day of the examination, with an opportunity to see how the marking scheme was applied to the work.

How do I apply to view scripts?

When you receive your results your school will also have a personalised application form provided by the Commission which will show your examination details including your subjects. If you decide you would like to view a particular script(s) you mark the form accordingly. You must return the completed form to the school where you sat your examination by Tuesday 18th August, 2009.

What happens next?

The Organising Superintendent appointed by the Commission to your school will assign you to one of the viewing sessions. The viewing sessions will be held as follows:
Friday 28th August 2009 from 6.00 p.m. to 9.00 p.m. (Session 1)
Saturday 29th August 2009 from 9.00 a.m. to 12.00 noon (Session 2)
Saturday 29th August 2009 from 2.00 p.m. to 5.00 p.m. (Session 3).

The Appeal Process

The Commission will be publishing a separate information booklet that will provide greater details on the appeal process. It will be available to candidates through their schools when the results issue in August. In the case of external candidates it will be included with their results.

EXTRACT FROM RULES AND PROGRAMME FOR SECONDARY SCHOOLS 2004/05

SECTION XI. - CONDUCT OF CANDIDATES DURING EXAMINATIONS

56. It is each candidates' own responsibility to note carefully the days and hours, as fixed on the timetable, for the examinations in the subjects in which the candidate intends to present himself/herself.

Candidates are required to be in attendance at the examination hall at least half an hour before the examination commences in the subject in which they first present themselves.

LEAVING CERTIFICATE EXAMINATION 2009

On subsequent days they are required to be in attendance at least fifteen minutes before the hour stated in the timetable. Candidates will be responsible for making their own arrangements to ensure timely attendance at the examination hall.

External candidates must sign an attendance roll (Form E10A) at the start of each examination. The signature on this roll must agree with and appear in the same format as that on the candidate's I.D. Card.

No candidate will be admitted to the examination in any paper after thirty minutes of the time for that paper have elapsed.

57. No candidate may be authorised to leave the examination hall until the expiration of thirty minutes from the time at which the examination began.

58. A candidate may not be permitted to leave the hall and return during the examination period unless the Superintendent is satisfied that the candidate's need to leave the hall is genuine, (e.g. because of illness, urgent need to visit the toilet, etc.). A candidate who leaves the hall during any period of examination shall not be re-admitted during that period unless the candidate has been in the care of a representative of the school authority or, failing that, in the care of the Attendant during the entire period of the absence.

The candidate must hand the answer book and question paper to the Superintendent on leaving the hall; the Superintendent should record on the cover of the answer book the time of departure from and return to the hall and the reason for the absence; the time lost by the candidate may not be compensated for at the close of the examination period.

Particulars of any such occurrence should be reported on the appropriate Advice List.

59. A candidate who leaves the examination hall before the expiration of any period of examination must surrender his/her examination paper and answer book to the Superintendent.

60. A candidate must occupy during the entire examination the place first assigned to him/her by the Superintendent, unless otherwise directed by the Superintendent.

61. A candidate should raise his/her hand if he/she wishes to attract the attention of the Superintendent during the examination.

It is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that he/she brings to the attention of the Superintendent if he/she has not been provided with the level of the examination paper at each examination that he/she is due to take.

62. No candidate shall write his/her name on any answer book or other paper supplied. The candidate's number should be entered on every envelope, answer book, map, drawing, or sheet of square paper used.

Candidates should not commence writing until instructed to do so by the Superintendent.

63. A candidate must enter on the envelopes and answer books used by him/her the particulars required as to subject, etc.

64. Any additional answer book, squared paper, etc. issued to a candidate, whether used or unused, should be attached to his/her answer book before it is sealed with the treasury tag provided for that purpose.

Candidates will be supplied with Mathematics Tables by the Superintendent. They may not bring their own Mathematical Tables into the examination hall.

65. A candidate shall not bring into the examination hall, or have in his/her possession or under his/her control or within his/her reach, whilst he/she is in such room –

(a) any book or paper (save his/her I.D. card, where such is required, the examination paper, and such answer books, etc., as shall have been supplied to him/her by the Superintendent);

or

(b) any memorandum, notes or mobile phone, electronic address book, data bank, etc, except a calculator as permitted under the regulations or bi-lingual translation dictionary where its use has been approved.

66. In the case of Art examinations of a practical nature (i.e. drawing, craftwork), candidates are permitted to bring such materials into the Examination Hall as may be notified to schools by the Commission.

67. A candidate shall not, while in the Examination Hall –

(a) use, or attempt to use, any book, memorandum, notes or paper (save the examination paper and such answer books, etc., as shall have been supplied to him/her by the Superintendent and a bilingual translation dictionary where its use has been approved); or

(b) aid, or attempt to aid, another candidate; or

(c) obtain, or attempt to obtain, aid from another candidate or Superintendent;

or

(d) communicate, or attempt to communicate, in any way, with another candidate within the centre or by electronic means with a person outside the centre.

68. A candidate

- (a) shall not write on the examination paper (except where answers are to be written on part of the examination paper itself e.g. in Mathematics) or I.D. card or Mathematical tables or on any of the mathematical instruments brought with him/her; except where a candidate uses a highlighter pen or underlining as an aid to interpreting the question paper.
- (b) shall not write in his/her answer book anything that is not directly connected with the subject matter of the questions to be answered;
- (c) shall not remove from the answer books any leaf or part of a leaf;
- (d) shall not take out, or attempt to take out, of the examination hall, any answer books, whether used or unused;
- (e) shall not damage the examination hall or its furniture.

69. A candidate who has finished his/her work at least ten minutes before the time appointed for the conclusion of the examination may be permitted to leave the hall on handing up to the Superintendent –

- (a) his/her answer book(s) and
- (b) the examination paper.

70. A candidate who completes his/her work during the last ten minutes of the examination should remain in his/her seat until the Superintendent has collected his/her answer book(s) and he/she should not then leave the hall until the time appointed for the conclusion of the examination unless permitted to do so by the Superintendent.

71. At the conclusion of the examination each candidate who has not already done so should immediately seal his/her answer book(s) or envelope and remain in his/her seat until the Superintendent has collected the answer book(s).

72. A candidate shall, in all matters relative to the examination, submit to, and obey, the directions of the Superintendent.

73. In those subjects in which there is more than one paper, a candidate must take all the papers in a subject from one level, e.g. all papers at Ordinary Level or all at Higher Level. He/she may not be supplied with, or allowed to see, the papers in more than one level in the same subject.

74. Each candidate presenting himself/herself for examination in Construction Studies, Design and Communication Graphics, Engineering, Materials Technology (Wood) or in Technical Graphics is required to bring with him/her a drawing board, T-square, scales, set squares, protractor, compass, pencil, eraser and drawing clips or tape.

Candidates may use mathematical drawing instruments for all examinations. The use of science stencils is permitted for the examinations in the Science subjects. The use of string, thread, a magnifying glass and an opisometer is permitted for the examination in Geography.

Unless otherwise stated in the specific syllabus and on the specific examination paper, the use of calculators is allowed in all examinations, subject to the following:

- (a) Neither the Department of Education and Science nor the State Examinations Commission will supply calculators to candidates. Examination centres will not be responsible for the provision of calculators or batteries.
- (b) The proper working condition of the calculator is the responsibility of the candidate. No allowance will be made for battery or other calculator failure during the examination.
- (c) Calculators must be silent and must not require the use of mains electricity supply.
- (d) Calculators may not be borrowed from other candidates during the examination.
- (e) Programmable calculators are prohibited. The term “programmable” includes any calculator that is capable of storing a sequence of keystrokes that can be retrieved after the calculator is turned off or powers itself off. Note that the capacity to recall, edit and replay previously executed calculations does not render a calculator programmable, provided that this replay memory is automatically cleared when the calculator is powered off. It also includes calculators into which a formula or other such expression can be entered by the user. Also, the facility to store numbers in one or more memory locations, does not render a calculator programmable.
- (f) Calculators with any of the following mathematical features are prohibited:
 - graph plotting
 - equation solving
 - symbolic algebraic manipulation
 - numerical integration
 - numerical differentiation
 - matrix calculations

- (g) Calculators with any of the following general features are prohibited:
- data banks
 - dictionaries
 - language translators
 - text retrieval
 - capability of remote communication.
- (h) Candidates must indicate on their answer books the make and model of any calculator(s) used in the examination.
- (i) Candidates are not allowed to take an instruction manual into the examination hall. This includes instructions printed on the cover of the calculator. Any instructions printed on a casing that cannot be removed from the calculator must be securely covered
- (j) Candidates may not turn on their calculators until the examination begins. This rule does not allow a candidate to bring into the examination centre any device that would be otherwise prohibited. In particular, mobile phones, electronic organisers or similar devices are not permitted under any circumstances (see rule 65 above).

75. A candidate may be expelled from the examination hall if his/her behaviour is such as to jeopardise the successful conduct of the examination. Submission of material of a pornographic nature or any other offensive material or the inclusion of any cash/cheque in the script may result in the examination in all subjects being disallowed.

76. Where the Commission forms the view that there has been a violation of these Rules, it should inform the Department and it will be for the Minister to decide on the penalty to be applied. Where the Minister is of the opinion that any candidate has violated any of these Rules, has attempted to obtain an examination result to which the candidate is not entitled, or has uttered or attempted to utter such a result or has furnished incorrect information in relation to his/her candidature, such candidate shall be liable to be deprived of the examination or of marks, or to have such deduction made as the Minister may think fit from any sum payable in respect of any grant or scholarship obtained by the candidate, according to the opinion which the Minister may form of the gravity of the offence; and the Minister may, if the Minister thinks fit, publish the candidate's name and address, as given in the notice of intention to present for examination, as those of a candidate who has been so deprived and the Minister may, according to the opinion of the Minister as to the gravity of the offence, debar the candidate from entering for any of the examinations run by the Department of Education and Science for such period as the Minister may determine.
