LEAVING CERTIFICATE EXAMINATION 2021

Art - Coursework Brief

Imaginative Composition or Still Life and Craftwork or Design

Higher Level and Ordinary Level
200 marks

This brief together with the State Examinations Commission Coursework Workbook should be handed to candidates on Monday, 7 December 2020.

- As there is no Life Sketching examination in 2021, the total mark allocation for the subject in 2021 is 350 marks – that is, 200 marks for the Coursework and 150 marks for the written examination.
- There are some adjustments to the Coursework requirements for the academic year 2020-2021.
- This year, your Coursework consists of research, development and completion of one realised artefact only.
- The format and written content of the Coursework Workbook has not changed from previous years, so it is important to note that the instructions in this brief take priority over the instructions in the workbook.
- This year, you will need to complete either Section A or Section B only, in your workbook, realise one artefact and complete the relevant Rationale for the Section you have chosen.
- This means that you should ignore any instructions in the workbook that refer to completing two artefacts and ignore any instructions that refer to completing both Section A and Section B.
- In all other respects the instructions are the same as in previous years.

A minimum of 15 hours of classroom contact should be provided for the delivery of the coursework component over the twelve week period.

All work must be completed by Friday, 19 March 2021.

Instructions to candidates

1. It is your responsibility as the candidate to comply with all instructions. If you fail to comply with these instructions, your Art teacher will not be able to validate and sign off on your coursework. In order for your Art teacher to be able to validate your work, you must select coursework that can be completed within the supervised time allowed, using the materials and equipment available in the school.
2. Your coursework component must meet the requirements as specified in this Coursework Brief.
3. Your coursework must be completed by the date stated on this Leaving Certificate Art Coursework Brief.
4. Your completed coursework submitted for assessment must consist of one realised work and a record of its development in the Coursework Workbook. Your investigation and development based on your chosen theme must be recorded in your workbook.
5. You must work directly into your Coursework Workbook. The pages of your workbook should display all of your visual investigations, ideas and experiments; a record of the journey from initial idea to final realisation.
6. Your workbook and realised work must not be removed from the school under any circumstances as doing so will result in the coursework being considered invalid and no marks will be awarded.
7. The coursework you submit for assessment must be your own individual, original work. Group coursework is not accepted for assessment.
8. Your workbook should include a record of the design and development process and show the steps that you took to develop your ideas. You should also include a proposal for your realised work.
9. You must use primary sources. Primary sources are sources, physical or conceptual, that are viewed in their original state and are not filtered through another person's interpretation of them. You may use a combination of physical and conceptual sources, (working from imagination, memory or feeling).
10. If you wish to also use secondary sources, you should only use them as an influence or inspiration and include them on the Initial Research Sheet only. You must have a reason for including secondary sources such as: looking at how others use materials, techniques, surfaces, art elements or composition. You must acknowledge any secondary sources by giving full reference details.
11. Material (secondary sources) copied directly from the internet or from other sources and presented as your own work will not receive any marks.

12. Making studies outside of the classroom: you may make some sketches and take some photographs to bring into class but the development should take place in Art class under the supervision of your Art teacher. Studies or photography recorded outside of supervised class time should appear on Development Sheet 1 only. Keep this type of work to a minimum. Studies made outside of the classroom must be validated by your Art teacher as your own work in order to be submitted as coursework. The work that you bring in to the school must be of the same level and standard as the work that you carry out under the supervision of your Art teacher.
13. Your workbook can include samples of trial work that you have made in the art room during the course of the project such as embroidery stitches on fabric, colour combinations, texture trials, experiments on various grounds, your own photographs and written notes. The samples (grounds and trial work, etc.) you attach should be small enough to allow you ample space to work directly on to your workbook.
14. You must put your examination number on the coursework workbook and on your realised work using the labels supplied.
15. To enable your Art teacher to validate your coursework and to ensure that similar constraints apply to all candidates, the coursework workbook and realised work in its entirety must be carried out in school under the supervision of your class teacher.
16. Both your Art teacher and school Principal are required to sign a document that states that you have followed these instructions. This validates your coursework for assessment. They must inform the State Examinations Commission if you have not followed all of these instructions.
17. Even if the work is authenticated by the school, any incidence of suspected copying, improper assistance from another party, plagiarism or procurement from another party will be thoroughly investigated. Where coursework cannot be verified by the State Examinations Commission as the candidate's own individual work the State Examinations Commission will take appropriate action. This often results in the work presented being deemed invalid and any marks awarded in respect of it being discounted when determining the overall result.
18. Responsibility for complying with examination requirements rests with you the candidate. If the above requirements are not met, your Art teacher and the school authorities will have to bring this to the attention of the State Examinations Commission.

Note: the circumstances in which the Minister for Education and Skills may withhold marks from candidates are set out in the 'Rules and Programme for Secondary Schools'. Any person who helps a candidate to break examination rules can be prosecuted under the Education Act 1998.

Development

You must follow the prescribed structure of the Coursework Workbook to develop your Realised Artefact for either Section A or Section B:

- 1. The Initial Research Sheet - research for all of your coursework.
  - Research and investigate your chosen theme, this investigation will show you possibilities and routes that you might take with your coursework. As candidates in 2020-2021 will be realising one artefact only, there is no requirement to fill all of the space provided on this sheet.
- 2. Development Sheets 1 & 2 for Section A or Section B.
  - From your research and investigation, develop ideas using your chosen primary source(s) on development sheets 1 & 2 for the Section that you have chosen.
  - Expand and test these ideas using a variety of means: visual, annotated, mixed media, photographic, etc.
  - When you are satisfied that your investigation and development has led to a feasible proposal for either Section A or Section B, sketch your proposal on the relevant Development Sheet 2 and proceed to make your realised work.

The process of research, investigation and development is essential in order for you to be able to create your best possible artwork.

- You must use primary source material based on your chosen theme.
- You should work directly on to your Coursework Workbook using both sides of your research and development sheets for Section A or Section B as appropriate.
- You should discuss your ideas with your Art teacher as your coursework progresses. However, all work submitted should be your own unaided work.
- Select coursework that can be completed within the supervised time allowed, using the materials and equipment available in the school.
- Investigation and development can include recording material from source/s such as objects, people and landscapes. Conceptual sources which are based on ideas and imagination are also allowed. You may also use a combination of sources. Irrespective of the sources that you investigate, you must use the material that you generate from this investigation to develop your own original work.
